CONTENTMENT. . . The story is told of a farmer who lived on the same farm all of his life. It was a good farm, but with the passing years, the farmer began to tire of it and longed for something better. Every day, he found something else wrong with the farm and finally decided to sell. He hired a relator, who made up a sales flier, emphasizing the good points of the farm, including an ideal location, modern equipment and healthy stock on acres of fertile ground. Before she ran the ad, she called the farmer and read it to him for his approval. The farmer listened carefully as she read, and when she finished, he cried out, "Hold everything! I have changed my mind. I am not going to sell. I have been looking for a place like that all of my life!"

Like the farmer, you and I are constantly looking for something "better". Deep in our hearts, we long for something more. We should be living illustrations of peace and contentment, but we often struggle in life. . .so think about it. . .what is the secret of contentment?

So dear friends, as we continue our Easter season and welcome Spring's warmer weather, consider that contentment is all in your perspective. Just trust in God, and learn to be content in whatever circumstances you find yourself. The first step toward a contented life is to trust in God and choose which perspective you will view your life from. . .

(The article above was sent to me by a fellow parishioner who asked me if maybe I could use it in this column. I'm always looking for ideas, so of course, I am using it! Because of circumstances in my life (yes, I'm joining the "knee replacement club"), I have to write several columns in advance and I will be using items like this given to me by parishioners. Thanks to everyone who has given my ideas to use here.)
